THE RIGHT OF TRIAL BY JURY UPHELD

BY THE SUPREME COURT IN LIQUOR CONVICTIONS

Right of Counsel Is Also Upheld In Order For Rehearing Where Mayors Imposed Fine Without Argument As To Merit of Case—Riding Rough Shod Over Liquor Trials By Justices, Mayors and Judges and Fining Prisoners Practically Without a Hearing, Will Receive a Quietus.

Indication was given Tuesday in Columbus that the supreme court of Ohio may be on the point of recognizing the right of trial by jury for all persons accused of offenses in Ohio.

Under previous rulings the right of trial by jury has been denied in cases where only fines were imposed, although many convicted persons unable to pay heavy fines have been compelled to sit in jail for long terms.

The indication is to be found in a case decided Tuesday in which Carl Decker, Preble county, won his liberty. He is charged with having violated the Crabbie act. He was fined $700 by the mayor of Camden after the mayor refused to permit his counsel to argue the case after the evidence was presented. Decker is to receive a new trial.

The opinion in the case was written by Judge Florence E. Allen, and was concurred in unanimously. High points of the ruling are:

"The provisions of Article 1, Section 10 of the Ohio constitution, which allows an accused person in any court, in any trial, to appear and defend in person and with counsel is applicable to misdemeanor trials arising under the Crabbie act for unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor.

"Under Article 1, Section 10, of the Ohio constitution, a defendant charged with a misdemeanor has a constitutional right to be heard thru counsel in argument after the evidence is concluded."

The pertinent portion of Section 10, Article 1, known as the "bill of rights" which is construed by the court in this case, follows:

"In any trial in any court, the party accused shall be allowed to appear and defend in person and with counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof; to meet the witness face to face and to have compulsory process to procure the attendance of witnesses in his behalf, and a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county in which the offense is alleged to have been committed.

"But the provision may be made by law for the taking of the depositions by the accused or by the state, to be used for or against the accused, of any witness whose attendance cannot be had at the trial, always securing to the accused means and the opportunity to be present in person and with counsel at the taking of such deposition and to examine the witness face to face as fully and in the same manner as if in court."

Inspection of the opinion of the court and comparison with the language of the constitution of Ohio reveal that the portion of the constitution given effect Tuesday is found in the same sentence with the provision for the right of trial by jury.

Under immemorial custom of the courts of Ohio, no comment is made publicly by judges as to the ultimate effects of decisions which have been given, but attorneys who commented on the case believe that the court is only a step removed from granting to the people of Ohio all their liberties under the bill of rights.

One phase only was passed upon Tuesday, but other aspects of the grave questions affecting the liberty of every person in Ohio are certain to be raised. It was said to deny jury trial rights after the decision Tuesday would involve serious inconsistency upon the part of the highest tribunal.

SUPREME COURT BROKE RECORD DRY DECISION

Columbus, O., Nov. 24 (UP).—The supreme court today broke its record for dry decisions and reversed and remanded for new trial the case of Carl Decker of Camden.

Decker was arrested by the marshal of Camden and fined $700 by the Camden mayor for alleged illegal possession.

In overruling the lower court and the court of appeals, the supreme court sustained the following contentions:

That Decker was halted on a search warrant not supported by an affidavit. That the marshal testified to the illegal possession because he said he smelled liquor in the remnant of a bottle broken by Decker at the time of his arrest.

That the mayor or judge in the case was also a witness to the episode because he was called to the scene by the marshal.

That Decker's attorney was not allowed to make an argument at the trial.

People rich in experience are often poor in spot cash.

MONDAY CLUB STUDY GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

Personality and Writings of Author Was Topic of The Evening.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Carl Ritz, the meeting of the Monday club on the evening of November 23, was presided over by the vice president, Mrs. T. W. Brown. At the conclusion of the preliminary exercises, Mrs. Brown turned the study session over to Miss Grace Moodie, chairman of the literature division.

The subject of the evening's work was George Bernard Shaw: His Personality and Writings. The first topic, Shaw the Man, was taken up by Miss May Lowe, who sought to evolve, from the labyrinth of uncertainty and conjecture in which Shaw has been wandering for some seventy years, something tangible and satisfying. But to read what has been said of him by others is confusing and leads to many contradictions of statement; to read what he has said of himself is equally confusing. Does a writer's literary work image himself? If so, what sort of a man would Shaw be? Brilliant, without doubt. Artistic. But sarcastic, satirical; an iconoclast who in his enthusiasm to demolish idols tries to shatter ideals which we have been accustomed to regard as the mainstay of society, of the human race itself—the sanctity of the family. He ridicules marriage, he scoffs at home and religion, but in all his scoffing he betrays only his own weakness. It looks like each one of Shaw's readers must judge for himself as to the writer's character. For of all the diverse views that have been written of this man's personality, what shall we choose—devil or saint—which?

Th next topic was a paper written by Mrs. Harry McMahon on Shaw, the Writer. This paper was well written, instructive and interesting, the writer in her opening sentence striking the keynote of her subject, as follows: "Most of us have a rather vague idea of just where to place Bernard Shaw as a writer—we think of him as a playwright, a novelist, a satirist, a revolutionist, but in general are ignorant of any method he may have in his madness." Mrs. McMahon then proceeded to elucidate some of Shaw's methods in a manner that sounded rather convincing and seemed to meet with the entire approval of her hearers. She said, in effect, that his contribution to literature has been many sided, Shaw's real success was in critical reviewing. His mind was keen and brilliant and his writing always clever, and whether or not we agree with Mr. Shaw, or whether or not we quite understand him, we enjoy the mental skirmishes we have in trying to keep up with his ideas. Mrs. McMahon, being unable to be present, gave her paper to Mrs. William Ulm to be read. Mrs. Ulm has an excellent reading voice and she is in accord with the writer in regard to Shaw, therefore the paper was put before the club in a way to be thoroughly enjoyed.

The third topic of the program was Shaw's play, "Saint Joan," to have been discussed by Mrs. Ritz. In her absence, this topic was postponed to some future date.

A short business meeting followed the lesson, with Mrs. Brown again in the chair.

SUPREME COURT BROKE RECORD DRY DECISION

Columbus, O., Nov. 24 (UP).—The supreme court today broke its record for dry decisions and reversed and remanded for new trial the case of Carl Decker of Camden.

Decker was arrested by the marshal of Camden and fined $700 by the Camden mayor for alleged illegal possession.

In overruling the lower court and the court of appeals, the supreme court sustained the following contentions:

That Decker was halted on a search warrant not supported by an affidavit. That the marshal testified to the illegal possession because he said he smelled liquor in the remnant of a bottle broken by Decker at the time of his arrest.

That the mayor or judge in the case was also a witness to the episode because he was called to the scene by the marshal.

That Decker's attorney was not allowed to make an argument at the trial.

People rich in experience are often poor in spot cash.

MONDAY CLUB STUDY GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

Personality and Writings of Author Was Topic of The Evening.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Carl Ritz, the meeting of the Monday club on the evening of November 23, was presided over by the vice president, Mrs. T. W. Brown. At the conclusion of the preliminary exercises, Mrs. Brown turned the study session over to Miss Grace Moodie, chairman of the literature division.

The subject of the evening's work was George Bernard Shaw. His Personality and Writings. The first topic, Shaw the Man, was taken up by Miss May Lowe, who sought to evolve, from the labyrinth of uncertainty and conjecture in which Shaw has been wandering for some seventy years, something tangible and satisfying. But to read what has been said of him by others is confusing and leads to many contradictions of statement; to read what he has said of himself is equally confusing. Does a writer's literary work image himself? If so, what sort of a man would Shaw be? Brilliant, without doubt. Artistic. But sarcastic, satirical; an iconoclast who in his enthusiasm to demolish idols tries to shatter ideals which we have been accustomed to regard as the mainstay of society, of the human race itself—the sanctity of the family. He ridicules marriage, he scoffs at home and religion, but in all his scoffing he betrays only his own weakness. It looks like each one of Shaw's readers must judge for himself as to the writer's character. For of all the diverse views that have been written of this man's personality, what shall we choose—devil or saint—which?

Th next topic was a paper written by Mrs. Harry McMahon on Shaw, the Writer. This paper was well written, instructive and interesting, the writer in her opening sentence striking the keynote of her subject, as follows: "Most of us have a rather vague idea of just where to place Bernard Shaw as a writer—we think of him as a playwright, a novelist, a satirist, a revolutionist, but in general are ignorant of any method he may have in his madness." Mrs. McMahon then proceeded to elucidate some of Shaw's methods in a manner that sounded rather convincing and seemed to meet with the entire approval of her hearers. She said, in effect, that his contribution to literature has been many sided, Shaw's real success was in critical reviewing. His mind was keen and brilliant and his writing always clever, and whether or not we agree with Mr. Shaw, or whether or not we quite understand him, we enjoy the mental skirmishes we have in trying to keep up with his ideas. Mrs. McMahon, being unable to be president, gave her paper to Mrs. William Um to be read. Mrs. Um has an excellent reading voice and she is in accord with the writer in regard to Shaw, therefore the paper was put before the club in a way to be thoroughly enjoyed.

The third topic of the program was Shaw's play, "Saint Joan," to have been discussed by Mrs. Ritz. In her absence, this topic was postponed to some future date. A short business meeting followed the lesson, with Mrs. Brown again in the chair. She'll Have to Spruce Up First. RABBIT SUPPER AT ELKS' HOME TUESDAY NIGHT

The Elks entertained nearly two hundred guests to a rabbit supper Tuesday evening in their banquet rooms on North Court street. The supper was followed by the initiation of three candidates.

Prosecuting Attorney Meeker Terwilliger gave a talk on the good points of fraternalism, especially noting the social and charitable features of the Elks lodge.

Every except fried rabbit was on the run Tuesday evening, and this was piled high on plates the banqueting board fairly groaned with good things to eat.

PARKING WITHOUT LIGHTS.

Columbus, O., Nov. 24 (UP).—The owner of an automobile parked at night without lights, must pay damages in case his car figures in an accident, the supreme court held Tuesday.

The decision was on the appeal of Louis Kronenberg, Cleveland, against Harry and Herbert Whale of Cleveland. The Whale brothers were injured when their car ran into Kronenberg's which was parked without lights. They were allowed $10,000 $3500 respectively, in damages against Kronenberg.

AMERICAN LEGION

Auxiliary Held An Enthusiastic Meeting.

At one of the most enthusiastic and best attended meetings of the American Legion Auxiliary, this year, Mrs. B. F. Yates was hostess, at her home in North Scioto street last evening. After the regular business meeting, plans were discussed and a committee appointed to visit the Government Hospital No. 97, at Camp Sherman, at least once in three months and to find out in just what way the Auxiliary may be of the most assistance to those disabled veterans who are there. This arrangement was made after Mrs. Grace Goff reported some distressing incidents that had come to her attention from residents of Chillicothe. The Auxiliary has always filled their quota from headquarters which as a rule is sent to the Dayton Hospital, but they feel that with the nearness of No. 97, they might be able to do some good there also. Mrs. E. E. Prose as hospital chairman, was appointed to make the first visit and she may choose two members from the Auxiliary to accompany her. A report from the card party and the banquet on Armistice Day was not complete as all bills had not been presented to the club, and this report will be read at the next meeting.

The Auxiliary is making plans to plant trees in commemoration of the departed World War veterans, and it was decided to have the executive committee meet with Mayor Fitzpatrick to arrange a suitable place to plant them.

It is hoped that all the meetings in the future will be as well attended and as enthusiastic. If the members fully realized the good that may be accomplished by their attendance at these meetings there is no doubt but that all would be there. Mrs. Parrett, the president, wishes them to know that their presence is desired because if the program which the Auxiliary plans for the coming year is to be carried out it will be necessary for all members to work, give earnest support and co-operate with the ones who are bearing the heavy burden. The next meeting will be held on the 14th of December and the place of meeting will be announced later. Make arrangements to be there.

Salt Won't Protect Wood
Some unsuccessful attempts have been made to use salt (chloride of sodium) as a means of protecting wood against decay. The low toxicity and high solubility of this material make it unsatisfactory as a wood preservative unless under conditions where it will be present in strong concentrations. Such conditions, however, are seldom possible to maintain.

AMUSEMENTS

One of the finest pictures it has

MAE MURRAY and JOHN GILBERT
in a scene from "THE MERRY WIDOW"ever been our pleasure to see was presented at the Metropolitan theater,
where it will be shown for the next three days. It is entitled "The Merry Widow." The production is a splendid piece of workmanship and shows
Mae Murray and John Gilbert, as co-
stars, doing the best work of their varied and brilliant careers. Erich
von Stroheim whose directorial genius
immortalized "Foolish Wives" has fulfilled a similar function with "The Merry Widow."Laid in a mythical Balkan kingdom, the picture reflects all the glamor, fascination and beauty of the Continent.
The settings are nothing short of exquisite and the coronation sequence
done in natural colors is of such beauty and splendor that it will long be remembered by all those fortunate enough to see the picture.The story is replete with surprises
and moves at a pace that keeps the
spectator enthralled during every moment of its unfoldment. It tells of the romantic adventures of a dashing
young prince (admirably well portrayed by John Gilbert) and a vivacious Irish-American dancer (defly characterized by Mae Murray). It is brimful with surprises and thrills and
its climaxes lead one to another with refreshing swiftness as a series of
beautiful tableaux mark the progress of the plot.Tho the mood of the picture is dramatic, a delicate vein of humor appears thruout which serves to heighten
and at the same time relieve the tense-
ness of the picture. The film is worthy of the most in-praise and patronage
for it lives up to the true reason for
its existence in every respect; it's first and last, real entertainment.Erich von Stroheim, besides directing the film, is responsible with Benjamin Glazer for the well-knit
scenario prepared from the famous
stage play by Victor Leon, Leo Stein
and Franz Lehar, as produced by Henry W. Savage.

Made to Grow AgainVernon, Utah.—Seed from corn that grew in Utah long before the advent of the white man is yielding from two to five ears to the stalk, on the farm of Jefferson Hall near here.The seed was found in an ancient cave of the cliff dwellers.
Twelve hills of the corn was
planted but only two hills grew.
Some of the stalks have attained a height of seven feet
while others are maturing at a height of four. A peculiarity of the ancient corn is that the
leaves are much wider than the
ordinary corn, some of them
reaching a width of five inches.
It also yields a greater number
of ears, about five growing to
the stalk.

MOVIE SHOWS ON SUNDAYS ARE UNLAWFUL

Case Was Taken From Chillicothe to State Supreme Court on Error.

Columbus, — The state supreme court Tuesday dismissed the petition in error in the case of Earl Myers, Chillicothe, against the State or Ohio. Myers, a proprietor of a motion picture house, was convicted in the liquor courts of violating the state blue laws by showing a motion picture on Sunday.

Under a former ruling of the supreme court, motion pictures are classed as theatrical entertainment, making the showing of a motion picture on Sunday a violation of the law. The court held that no constitutional question was involved.

COST OF BUILDING

And Maintenance of Four Hundred Miles of State Highways.

Columbus, Nov. 24.—(UP.)—The cost of building and maintenance of state highways is defrayed by revenue derived from Buckeye motorists state records show. The cost of building 400 miles of new road and maintaining and repairing the present roads in the last year was $17,500,000, the highway department records reveal.

The sum paid by the state, was offset by the $12,000,000 paid by motorists for license tags, and more than $8,000,000 collected through the gasoline tax measure. In addition, some motorists paid a personal property tax during the last year, totaling more than $4,000,000.

Overflow Formed Lake

Heat with Distinction

At last it is proved that a home heater can be good looking—ornamental, if you will—as well as a practical heat-producing utility.

The Mueller Furnacette marks the greatest advance in home heating equipment since the invention of the heating stove. It is the joint creation of master furniture designers and skilled heating engineers. There is distinction in every line of its well-balanced, walnut-grained, vitreous enamel cabinet.

And as for heat—never was there an above-floor heater of any kind that could compare with the Furnacette in heating efficiency! It heats the whole house by continuously re-circulating warm, moist air thru all the rooms. It provides more comfortable, more uniform heat than two or three stoves combined, yet uses no more fuel than an ordinary heating stove.

ED WALLACE GAVE TALK ON MAKING BREAD

By Dint of Hard Work and Courteous Treatment Built Good Business.

Ed. Wallace, proprietor of the Wallace bakery was the speaker at the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening when fifty members listened to the man who built up a home industry of which the city may feel well proud. The business was built from a small bakery on South Pickaway street, in which the present proprietor worked as an apprentice.

With meager capital and some borrowed money he took a chance. If he had been pusillanimous, he probably would now be kneading bread, instead of managing one of the county's most successful bakeries. Ed. Wallace put the ace in Wallace and made it win.

After several years he bought a building in the center of the business district, remodeled the block and equipped the building with an up-to-date bakery.

Before the World war Mr. Wallace distributed his bread around town with a one horse wagon and today he has six trucks delivering his bread every morning all over the county.

Times have changed. The old stone and brick oven on the farm is now in the discard. The baker delivers the "staff of life" right at her door.

Mr. Wallace gave figures covering the past ten months of his business. He employs eighteen men and one woman and is also assisted in his business by his three boys. He has paid out in salaries in this period $15,782.95.

Four bread bakers and two cake bakers are employed and it takes six trucks to deliver the output. For sugar and flour alone he paid out in this period $35,412.23, garage rent, $125.30; drayage $951.30; advertising $537.50; wrapping paper and sacks, $2,291.10; taxes $291.82; gas, $862.64; electricity $362.53; water $67.28; telephone, $47.28.

He uses two tons of raisins, 100 pounds of sugar, a carload of flour every week and a ton of lard. Fifteen thousand loaves of Cream Crum bread are turned out of the ovens weekly, the volume of the bakery business has grown to such an extent that Mr. Wallace is considering using a portion of his second floor as a mixer room. He has recently installed a modern mixer for doughnuts, the cakes with dough baked around a hole. They call 'em sinkers and life preservers in ordinary restaurants. Mr. Wallace did not tell his audience how hard he worked to make the business a go. He gave the credit to his employees, but his audience placed the tiara where it belongs and Mr. Wallace was given the glad hand when he had finished his talk.

THE RIGHT OF TRIAL BY JURY UPHELD

BY THE SUPREME COURT IN LIQUOR CONVICTIONS

Right of Counsel Is Also Upheld In Order For Rehearing Where Mayors Imposed Fine Without Argument As To Merit of Case—Riding Rough Shod Over Liquor Trials By Justices, Mayors and Judges and Fining Prisoners Practically Without a Hearing, Will Receive a Quietus.

Indication was given Tuesday in Columbus that the supreme court of Ohio may be on the point of recognizing the right of trial by jury for all persons accused of offenses in Ohio.

Under previous rulings the right of trial by jury has been denied in cases where only fines were imposed, although many convicted persons unable to pay heavy fines have been compelled to sit in jail for long terms.

The indication is to be found in a case decided Tuesday in which Carl Decker, Preble county, won his liberty. He is charged with having violated the Crabbie act. He was fined $700 by the mayor of Camden after the mayor refused to permit his counsel to argue the case after the evidence was presented. Decker is to receive a new trial.

The opinion in the case was written by Judge Florence E. Allen, and was concurred in unanimously. High points of the ruling are:

"The provisions of Article 1, Section 10 of the Ohio constitution, which allows an accused person in any court, in any trial, to appear and defend in person and with counsel is applicable to misdemeanor trials arising under the Crabbie act for unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor.

"Under Article 1, Section 10, of the Ohio constitution, a defendant charged with a misdemeanor has a constitutional right to be heard thru counsel in argument after the evidence is concluded."

The pertinent portion of Section 10, Article 1, known as the "bill of rights" which is construed by the court in this case, follows:

"In any trial in any court, the party accused shall be allowed to appear and defend in person and with counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof; to meet the witness face to face and to have compulsory process to procure the attendance of witnesses in his behalf, and a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county in which the offense is alleged to have been committed.

"But the provision may be made by law for the taking of the depositions by the accused or by the state, to be used for or against the accused, of any witness whose attendance cannot be had at the trial, always securing to the accused means and the opportunity to be present in person and with counsel at the taking of such deposition and to examine the witness face to face as fully and in the same manner as if in court."

Inspection of the opinion of the court and comparison with the language of the constitution of Ohio reveal that the portion of the constitution given effect Tuesday is found in the same sentence with the provision for the right of trial by jury.

Under immemorial custom of the courts of Ohio, no comment is made publicly by judges as to the ultimate effects of decisions which have been given, but attorneys who commented on the case believe that the court is only a step removed from granting to the people of Ohio all their liberties under the bill of rights.

One phase only was passed upon Tuesday, but other aspects of the grave questions affecting the liberty of every person in Ohio are certain to be raised. It was said to deny jury trial rights after the decision Tuesday would involve serious inconsistency upon the part of the highest tribunal.

NEW OFFICERS EASTERN STAR INSTALLATION

Impressive Ceremony Performed by Mrs. Monroe of Portsmouth.

A most enjoyable occasion was the installation of the officers of Circleville chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, in the chapter room in the Masonic temple Tuesday evening.

The installing officer was Mrs. Edith Monroe, of Portsmouth, a former worthy matron of Circleville chapter, and the impressive ceremony was performed with precision and effectiveness. The installing marshal was Mrs. Maude Hedges of Ashville. The officers are: Worthy Matron, Sarah Trout; associate matron, Muriel Reichelderfer; secretary, Lucy B. Price; treasurer, Essie Reber; conductress, Essie Schiear; associate conductress, Marie Hamilton; chaplain, Belle Gearhart; marshal, Olive Leach; organist, Minnie Weaver; Ada, Bessie Long; Ruth, Flora Forrest; Esther Eva McMahon; Martha, Irene Newton; Electa, Ida M. Graham; warder, Annabell Moore; sentinel, Alice Cady. Mary Neuding is the new trustee elected for a period of three years.

On behalf of the chapter, the retiring worthy matron, Irma Stevenson, was presented a past matron's pin, the gift of the chapter and a set of goblets from her corps of officers. The presentation speech was made by the new worthy matron, Sarah Trout, to which Mrs. Stevenson graciously responded.

Preceding the installation ceremonies, Mrs. R. S. Hosler, of Ashville favored the audience with a vocal solo and responded to a hearty encore. Visitors were present from Williamsport, Kingston, Chillicothe, Lithopolis and Columbus.

An excellent dinner was served in the banquet room at six o'clock to the one hundred and fifty members and guests.

PICKAWAY MAN NEW MANAGER ALLEN COUNTY

H. B. Swearingen has been employed as manager of the Allen County Livestock Shipping association, and they are to be congratulated on securing the services of such a capable, enthusiastic worker.

The Lima Morning Star says: "H. B. Swearingen, former assistant service manager of the Pickaway county farm bureau, will succeed J. Russel Kimber, manager of the Allen county Livestock Shipping association. It was announced yesterday. Mr. Kimber will go to Green county, Ohio, to assume his duties as farm agent December 1.

"His resignation was accepted at a special meeting of the Allen county live stock board Wednesday night. Cooperative livestock shipping has progressed under the direction of Mr. Kimber, a specialist in animal husbandry and a graduate of Ohio State university, officials said. "Mr. Swearingen will begin working at once with Mr. Kimber to familiarize himself with his new position. Pickaway county has an enviable record in cooperative farm bureau work and Manager Swearingen brings the experience secured there to his new position."

SUPREME COURT BROKE RECORD DRY DECISION

Columbus, O., Nov. 24 (UP).—The supreme court today broke its record for dry decisions and reversed and remanded for new trial the case of Carl Decker of Camden.

Decker was arrested by the marshal of Camden and fined $700 by the Camden mayor for alleged illegal possession.

In overruling the lower court and the court of appeals, the supreme court sustained the following contentions:

That Decker was halted on a search warrant not supported by an affidavit. That the marshal testified to the illegal possession because he said he smelled liquor in the remnant of a bottle broken by Decker at the time of his arrest.

That the mayor or judge in the case was also a witness to the episode because he was called to the scene by the marshal.

That Decker's attorney was not allowed to make an argument at the trial.

PARKING WITHOUT LIGHTS.
Columbus, O., Nov. 24 (UP).—The owner of an automobile parked at night without lights, must pay damages in case his car figures in an accident, the supreme court held Tuesday.

The decision was on the appeal of Louis Kronenberg, Cleveland, against Harry and Herbert Whale of Cleveland. The Whale brothers were injured when their car ran into Kronenberg's which was parked without lights. They were allowed $10,000 $3500 respectively, in damages against Kronenberg.

MONDAY CLUB STUDY GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

Personality and Writings of Author Was Topic of The Evening.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Carl Ritz, the meeting of the Monday club on the evening of November 23, was presided over by the vice president, Mrs. T. W. Brown. At the conclusion of the preliminary exercises, Mrs. Brown turned the study session over to Miss Grace Moodie, chairman of the literature division.

The subject of the evening's work was George Bernard Shaw: His Personality and Writings. The first topic, Shaw the Man, was taken up by Miss May Lowe, who sought to evolve, from the labyrinth of uncertainty and conjecture in which Shaw has been wandering for some seventy years, something tangible and satisfying. But to read what has been said of him by others is confusing and leads to many contradictions of statement; to read what he has said of himself is equally confusing. Does a writer's literary work image himself? If so, what sort of a man would Shaw be? Brilliant, without doubt. Artistic. But sarcastic, satirical; an iconoclast who in his enthusiasm to demolish idols tries to shatter ideals which we have been accustomed to regard as the mainstay of society, of the human race itself—the sanctity of the family. He ridicules marriage, he scoffs at home and religion, but in all his scoffing he betrays only his own weakness. It looks like each one of Shaw's readers must judge for himself as to the writer's character. For of all the diverse views that have been written of this man's personality, what shall we choose—devil or saint—which?

The next topic was a paper written by Mrs. Harry McMahon on Shaw, the Writer. This paper was well written, instructive and interesting, the writer in her opening sentence striking the keynote of her subject, as follows: "Most of us have a rather vague idea of just where to place Bernard Shaw as a writer—we think of him as a playwright, a novelist, a satirist, a revolutionist, but in general are ignorant of any method he may have in his madness." Mrs. McMahon then proceeded to elucidate some of Shaw's methods in a manner that sounded rather convincing and seemed to meet with the entire approval of her hearers. She said, in effect, that his contribution to literature has been many sided, Shaw's real success was in critical reviewing. His mind was keen and brilliant and his writing always clever, and whether or not we agree with Mr. Shaw, or whether or not we quite understand him, we enjoy the mental skirmishes we have in trying to keep up with his ideas. Mrs. McMahon, being unable to be present, gave her paper to Mrs. William Ulm to be read. Mrs. Ulm has an excellent reading voice and she is in accord with the writer in regard to Shaw, therefore the paper was put before the club in a way to be thoroughly enjoyed.

The third topic of the program was Shaw's play, "Saint Joan," to have been discussed by Mrs. Ritz. In her absence, this topic was postponed to some future date.

A short business meeting followed the lesson, with Mrs. Brown again in the chair.

AMERICAN LEGION
Auxiliary Held An Enthusiastic Meeting.

At one of the most enthusiastic and best attended meetings of the American Legion Auxiliary, this year, Mrs. B. F. Yates was hostess, at her home in North Scioto street last evening. After the regular business meeting, plans were discussed and a committee appointed to visit the Government Hospital No. 97, at Camp Sherman, at least once in three months and to find out in just what way the Auxiliary may be of the most assistance to those disabled veterans who are there. This arrangement was made after Mrs. Grace Goff reported some distressing incidents that had come to her attention from residents of Chillicothe. The Auxiliary has always filled their quota from headquarters which as a rule is sent to the Dayton Hospital, but they feel that with the nearness of No. 97, they might be able to do some good there also. Mrs. E. E. Prose as hospital chairman, was appointed to make the first visit and she may choose two members from the Auxiliary to accompany her. A report from the card party and the banquet on Armistice Day was not complete as all bills had not been presented to the club, and this report will be read at the next meeting.

The Auxiliary is making plans to plant trees in commemoration of the departed World War veterans, and it was decided to have the executive committee meet with Mayor Fitzpatrick to arrange a suitable place to plant them.

It is hoped that all the meetings in the future will be as well attended and as enthusiastic. If the members fully realized the good that may be accomplished by their attendance at these meetings there is no doubt but that all would be there. Mrs. Parrett, the president, wishes them to know that their presence is desired because if the program which the Auxiliary plans for the coming year is to be carried out it will be necessary for all members to work, give earnest support and co-operate with the ones who are bearing the heavy burden. The next meeting will be held on the 14th of December and the place of meeting will be announced later. Make arrangements to be there.

The time is passed when the measure of the value of a memorial is quantity. I hope the time has come when that measure is quality. I care not whether the material be marble or granite, its future will be measured by the character of the design. It is quality that has preserved for us the finest examples in painting and sculpture. It is quality that will stamp our imprint upon cemeteries of the future. Simplicity, correct lines and proportions and proper ornamentation are the real fundamentals. A design that is right, material that is lasting and perfect workmanship, spells success for the future of this industry and the beautification of the cemetery. AMUSEMENTS

MAE MURRAY and JOHN GILBERT
in a scene from THE MERRY WIDOW ever been our pleasure to see was presented at the Metropolitan theater,

where it will be shown for the next
three days. It is entitled "The Merry Widow." The production is a splendid piece of workmanship and shows
Mae Murray and John Gilbert, as co-
stars, doing the best work of their
varied and brilliant careers. Erich
von Stroheim whose directorial genius
immortalized "Foolish Wives" has fulfilled a similar function with "The Merry Widow."

Laid in a mythical Balkan kingdom,
the picture reflects all the glamor, fascination and beauty of the Continent.
The settings are nothing short of exquisite and the coronation sequence
done in natural colors is of such beauty and splendor that it will long be remembered by all those fortunate
enough to see the picture.

The story is replete with surprises
and moves at a pace that keeps the
spectator enthralled during every moment of its unfoldment. It tells of
the romantic adventures of a dashing
young prince (admirably well portrayed by John Gilbert) and a vivacious Irish-American dancer (definitely characterized by Mae Murray). It is brimful with surprises and thrills and
its climaxes lead one to another with
refreshing swiftness as a series of
beautiful tableaux mark the progress of the plot.

Tho the mood of the picture is dramatic, a delicate vein of humor appears thruout which serves to heighten
and at the same time relieve the tense-
ness of the picture. The film is worthy
of the most in-praise and patronage
for it lives up to the true reason for
its existence in every respect; it's first
and last, real entertainment.

Erich von Stroheim, besides directing the film, is responsible with Benjamin Glazer for the well-knit
scenario prepared from the famous
stage play by Victor Leon, Leo Stein
and Franz Lehar, as produced by Henry W. Savage.

vious to their battle Thursday night
with "Monte Beaver's" Newark Y.
five. Oh, boy, and what a practice it was. To see those boys in action gives one a sensation beyond expression. They go into a practice game with same spirit they display at a regular game, fighting in that clean sportsmanlike attitude, for which they are so well known, until the last whistle is blown, proving beyond question that "Monte" will have to step some to get a team to beat them.

Following is the probable line-up which will be used to start the game.
Y. M. C. A.—Forwards, Leo Baker,
Kid Burke; center, De France;
guards Iky Montgomery, Card Baker.
C. A. C. Forwards—Jim Gattrell, center, Eddie Mason; guards, Dick Robinson, Dwight Steele.

This is of course just a guess as to what will be the choice of the team managers but it at least looks like two hard fighting combinations and fans should not fail to take advantage of the opportunity to see them in action.

Russia Is Encouraging
Appreciation for Art

Moscow.—While the horny-handed son of toil and talk is told that he is of the aristocracy of Soviet Russia, schools are bringing a new intelligentsia into the country.

Persons who cannot read and write are regarded as defective—a great change in a few years. The reception of the Russian art exhibit in the United States and Canada has pleased Russians. The government newspapers, in expressing their satisfaction, show requisite spirit by explaining that this is the new school of Russian art—proletarian and not bourgeois.

I. E. Grabar, who has returned from the United States, says that the exhibition of 600 articles has had such a great success that it will be continued through the winter in various cities in North America.

Cliff Dwellers' Corn
Made to Grow Again

Vernon, Utah.—Seed from
corn that grew in Utah long before the advent of the white
man is yielding from two to five ears to the stalk, on the farm of Jefferson Hall near here.

The seed was found in an ancient cave of the cliff dwellers.
Twelve hills of the corn was
planted but only two hills grew.

Some of the stalks have attained a height of seven feet
while others are maturing at a
height of four. A peculiarity of
the ancient corn is that the
leaves are much wider than the
ordinary corn, some of them
reaching a width of five inches.
It also yields a greater number
of ears, about five growing to
the stalk.

MOVIE SHOWS ON SUNDAYS ARE UNLAWFUL

Case Was Taken From Chillicothe to State Supreme Court on Error.

Columbus, — The state supreme court Tuesday dismissed the petition in error in the case of Earl Myers, Chillicothe, against the State or Ohio. Myers, a proprietor of a motion picture house, was convicted in the liquor courts of violating the state blue laws by showing a motion picture on Sunday.

Under a former ruling of the supreme court, motion pictures are classed as theatrical entertainment, making the showing of a motion picture on Sunday a violation of the law. The court held that no constitutional question was involved.

COST OF BUILDING

And Maintenance of Four Hundred Miles of State Highways.

Columbus, Nov. 24.—(UP.)—The cost of building and maintenance of state highways is defrayed by revenue derived from Buckeye motorists state records show. The cost of building 400 miles of new road and maintaining and repairing the present roads in the last year was $17,500,000, the highway department records reveal.
The sum paid by the state, was offset by the $12,000,000 paid by motorists for license tags, and more than $8,000,000 collected through the gasoline tax measure. In addition, some motorists paid a personal property tax during the last year, totaling more than $4,000,000.

Overflow Formed Lake

The Salton sea is a temporary lake in southern California, formed in 1905 and 1906 by the overflow inland of water from the Colorado river through the water channel of an irrigation canal conducting water from the Colorado river near Yuma, Ariz., to the Imperial valley region.

In Other Words, It Works

Transparent Metals

Dr. Karl Mueller of Berlin claims to have discovered a process by which it is possible to reduce metal foils to a thinness of one 2 1/2-millionth of an inch while retaining their elasticity. The process can be used with all kinds of metals, including gold, and, of course, renders them transparent.

Insects on House Plants

There are many sorts of insects affecting house plants, and roses in particular, mainly sucking insects. They are controlled by sousing or dipping the plants in tobacco preparations and strong soap suds. Several sousings are usually necessary at intervals of a few days.

Heat with Distinction

At last it is proved that a home heater can be good looking—ornamental, if you will—as well as a practical heat-producing utility.

The Mueller Furnacette marks the greatest advance in home heating equipment since the invention of the heating stove. It is the joint creation of master furniture designers and skilled heating engineers. There is distinction in every line of its well-balanced, walnut-grained, vitreous enamel cabinet.

And as for heat—never was there an above-floor heater of any kind that could compare with the Furnacette in heating efficiency! It heats the whole house by continuously re-circulating warm, moist air thru all the rooms. It provides more comfortable, more uniform heat than two or three stoves combined, yet uses no more fuel than an ordinary heating stove.

ED WALLACE GAVE TALK ON MAKING BREAD

By Dint of Hard Work and Courteous Treatment Built
Good Business.

Ed. Wallace, proprietor of the Wallace bakery was the speaker at the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening when fifty members listened to the man who built up a home industry of which the city may feel well proud. The business was built from a small bakery on South Pickaway street, in which the present proprietor worked as an apprentice.

With meager capital and some borrowed money he took a chance. If he had been pusillanimous, he probably would now be kneading bread, instead of managing one of the county's most successful bakeries. Ed. Wallace put the ace in Wallace and made it win.

After several years he bought a building in the center of the business district, remodeled the block and equipped the building with an up-to-date bakery.

Before the World war Mr. Wallace distributed his bread around town with a one horse wagon and today he has six trucks delivering his bread every morning all over the county.

Times have changed. The old stone and brick oven on the farm is now in the discard. The baker delivers the "staff of life" right at her door.

Mr. Wallace gave figures covering the past ten months of his business. He employs eighteen men and one woman and is also assisted in his business by his three boys. He has paid out in salaries in this period $15,782.95.

Four bread bakers and two cake bakers are employed and it takes six trucks to deliver the output. For sugar and flour alone he paid out in this period $35,412.23, garage rent, $125.30; drayage $951.30; advertising $537.50; wrapping paper and sacks, $2,291.10; taxes $291.82; gas, $862.64; electricity $362.53; water $67.28; telephone, $47.28.

He uses two tons of raisins, 100 pounds of sugar, a carload of flour every week and a ton of lard. Fifteen thousand loaves of Cream Crum bread are turned out of the ovens weekly, the volume of the bakery business has grown to such an extent that Mr. Wallace is considering using a portion of his second floor as a mixer room. He has recently installed a modern mixer for doughnuts, the cakes with dough baked around a hole. They call 'em sinkers and life preservers in ordinary restaurants.

Mr. Wallace did not tell his audience how hard he worked to make the business a go. He gave the credit to his employees, but his audience placed the tiara where it belongs and Mr. Wallace was given the glad hand when he had finished his talk.
